Are they Receiving Adequate Sala-ries?

By the late election we have selected Hon. Henry J. Stites as Judge of the Court of Common Pleas, and Coi. Thos. B. Cochran as Judge of the Chancery Court. Both selections are admirable. The gentlemen chosen by the popular voice to fill these responsible positions are men of the strictest integrity and well fitted to discharge the duties of their respective positions.

of and desire the increase of salaries.

The above appeared in a city contemporary a few days ago, and we say amen to its suggestions. The city of Louisville owes it to herself to carry into effect, and without delay, the act of last winter, authorizing the Council to increase the salary of the judicial officers referred to.

The conduct of the Legislature at its jast session was, to say the least of it, most re-remarkable upon this subject of salaries. It was profusely liberal to every functionary whose salary had to be expended round and about the little town of Frankfort.

BOYD WINCHESTER,

Radical Logic on the Peace Question.

To get at the real Let us have peace. Until we have peace outhern white men must not vote. We canse till they are willing, like the patriotic and far-feeing Longstreet, to vote the Radical cicket. Until then suffrage must be withheld from the Southern whites as a war measure, Disguise it in the most specious manner, and still the issue presented by the Radicals places them in the attitude of making war upon the Constitution, war upon the rights of citizens, war upon the Union and the people of the country. In their most ingenious and cautious efforce to appear as the advocates of peace, the cousciousness that they are really striving to perpetuate the war will assert itself. The harvests of four summers have ripened upon the field where the last battle was fought, and still the great organ of the Radical party acknowledges that they are engaged in making war upon citizens held as paroled prisoners. These paroled prisoners have ust as we built batteries and raised armies."

Disguise it in the most specious manner, and still the issue presented by the Radicals til they do consent to assist in maintaining said party in power, it will continue to assail found the citizens of Henderson very much them with "war measures" in order that it may retain office and plunder the people by til they do consent to assist in maintaining the Southern whites until they agree to join

For twenty years before the war the Tribune abored to convince the public mind that sed its industry, retarded the develop ment of its wealth, and, by thus blighting the largest part of our settled territory, was an erity of the North. The Tribune party to power would remove this incubus, South blossom like the rose fill her with schools and workshops, and like, magic multiply all her rich products, which vere then so profitable to the commerce of the

Well, the Tribune carried its point. Its party came into power. It mustered millions of men in arms and started on its mission of reformation and regeneration to the South. Blood flowed like water; four thousand milhe world were at its command during four cars of war. It conquered. Slavery was EVANSVILLE, IND., Aug. 31, 1868. The southern part of this State is all ablaze or Seymour and Biair, and every day witnesses eccessions to the Democratic ranks. The of Hendricks as Governor is an asared fact. The Radicals claim the success of neir gubernatorial ticket, but when asked to h members and opposed to betting. The ocracy are jubilant and demonstrative, the Radicals quiet and dispirited, and this is true, not only of Evansville, but of all the counties not only of Evansville, but of all the counties my business has led me to visit within the ast few weeks.

In making war upon citizens held as paroled prisoners. These paroled prisoners have obeyed all mandates but one. They have not consented to vote the Radical ticket, and the organ of that party declares that, unsuperscript the consented to their homes, satisfied and consented to their homes, satisfied and the consented to their homes, satisfied to their homes.

THE WICKEDEST MAN IN NEW YORK.

He Shuts Ep His Water-Street Dance

House. Prayer Meeting There .- The Old Den to be

children, but an oracular dance-house keeper said:

"I'll tell you what's the matter. *H's religion! Those cassed singin! and prayin! fellers have got hold of John, and he's gettin! to be too damned religions. Religion's unhealthy. Its worse'n cholers. It's took many a poor feller off, and now it's gettin! hold of John, and it 'il take him off—leastways it 'il take him off from Water street. You see if 't don't."

This declaration was received with silent awe, as though the entire crowd felt the doom of religion impending over them.

On Sunday morning the following announcement, written in a bold, plain hand, was posted on the door of 304 Water s.reet:

"No gentleman admitted unless accompa-nied by their wives, who wish to employ Magdalen's as domestics. JOHN ALLEN."

This notice attracted great attention, and groups were constantly gathering in the streets during the day, discussing the matter, and making all manner of prophecies in repard to the result.

In the afternoon Allen attended the Sabbath-school and meeting at Howard Mission, where the fact that he had closed his dancehouse was publicly announced. Allen himself made a few remarks as follows:

THE PRATER MEETING LAST NIGHT.

to leave their horrible trade for their sake, if for nothing else.

Mrs. Allee sat at the table near Mr. Arnold, her baby in her arms. She expressed herself overloved at John's reformation, and said she had been awaiting it for years. John stood in different parts of the room during the evening, one time with his arms crossed upon his breast behind the bar near Mr. Van Meter, and again at the door. He looked not sad, but rather proud that he had made such a sensation. The title of the "Wickedest Man in New York" will never kill John Allen. He is fond of notoriety in his own way, and he has god it. He was attentive during the service, joined in the eligning, and stood with covered face and bowed head when prayer was being made. Chester went round the room, and his bright here and manily way made him welcome to every one.

"More like Jesus would 1 be,
All who knew the tune or words, or coult read the hymn-book, Joined in the singing. The voices of the women were distinctly heard and they were sweet, though it is true the the effect of all the voices was not harmony. One woman persisted in singing the word "More like Jesus" all the time. She kne no more. The gamins kicked up a roand added their voices to the discord. Even ually the hymn was sung through. M Hamilton prayed, but was interrupted by the boys, who commenced playing pranks of each other, and the laughter of the grown-children added to the confusion. As soon the prayer was ended, the boys were put on Quiet having been restored, Mr., Van Metegave out the hymn commencing—"Geome to Jesus now; Jesus is here;"

All low before him bow, Jesus is here."
This was sung with much feeling and correctness. Mr. Arnold then spoke a few plain, telling words. The next hymn is entitled "There's room for all." It was well rendered, and at its conclusion Mr. Van Meter prayed. Mr. Oliver Dyer made a short address, the most effective made during the evening. It was short, pithy, and to the point. "Jesus paid it all" was sung, and Mr. Arnold saids few words, and Dr. Perry followed in prayer. Mr. Arnold then called upon John Allen to say something. John smiled, looked bashful, and said:

id don't know what to say. I rejoice to is a prayer-meeting here. It is a friendly thering and I shall be glad to have it reated next Sanday night." A portion of one the hymns previously sung was given out, if the hymns previously sung was given out, if got through all right, with the exception as in the middle of it a woman put in her and and called out another, saying her place sas on fire. The woman called did not sir, sowever. Mr. Arnold finally gave out the aymn, "Shall I be there?" which he said was the favorite of little Chester. It was well sung. Chester-sat on the bar counter along side Mr. Arnold, and his clear, strong voic was heard all over the room singing his choic hymn. After some remarks by Dr. Ward, Newark, N. J., the doxology was sung, at the benediction pronounced. It was a nounced that at the request of the Wicked Man a daily prayer meeting would be held moon, commencing to-day. The visitors by John and his family good night and whome with plenty of food for reflection.

Upon the grounds I observed our worthy and talented Judge of the Court of Appeals, MR. Harhill, Esq. He is looking well.

The extra premium of $1 00, given by the managers for ladies' work, was taken by Mrs. Pryor, of Tennessee, on the finest shirt it has been our good fortune ever to have seen. The work was exquisite. Miss C, Green, of Bardstown, exhibited a bead-wrought pin-cushion; the work was exquisitely done, that the managers donated an extra premium on it. Having taken the name of Mr. Vin. Beckham was omitted, I inadvertently omitted his name in my report.
